

European Solidarity Corps Project

„Promote and Support International Volunteering“

based in Stuttgart, Germany

from Feb 1st – Dec 15th, 2019

European Solidarity Corps-project (frame of former EVS)

Summary of the project

International volunteering is a unique tool to promote peace, understanding and the European and human values and to directly support local projects. At the same time, volunteers gain a lot from this experience; they return with new ideas, new skills and new friends. We are looking for two volunteers from February to mid December 2019 to support our international projects in Germany and promote international work camps and other volunteering projects (IVP) to young people.

Who is IBG?

IBG is a German NGO working in the field of international youth exchange and international volunteering. We organise around 40 international work camps and a few other international projects in Germany each year. Through our network ALLIANCE of European Voluntary Service Organisations we have 60 similar partner organisations all over the world. We pay special attention to the accessibility and the sustainability of our projects. It is essential for us that our projects answer a local need and that the international groups are well integrated into the local community.
